EXPRESSIVE ARTS
for Healing & Social Change: A Person-Centered Approach

This unique certificate program for 2015/2017 combines experiential learning, theory and practice in the person-centered philosophy of Carl Rogers and the expressive arts: Movement, sound, visual arts, creative writing and psychodrama. The program is six residential weeks over two years, with a commitment to both years.

Participants come from around the globe wishing to use the expressive arts in counseling, teaching, mediation, social action and group facilitation, and/or to awaken personal growth and creativity. They attend six residential week-long courses over two years at a world class center in Monterey Peninsula, California. Starting August 13-19, 2015. www.visitasilomar.com

Sue Ann Herron, Ph.D. psychology, is the Director and co-facilitator of the PCEA Certificate Program at Meridian University and has co-facilitated programs with Dr. Rogers among others. Dr. Herron wrote her dissertation on Natalie Rogers: An Experiential Psychology of Self-Realization Beyond Abraham Maslow and Carl Rogers. She is currently writing a biography of Natalie Rogers’ professional life. Dr. Herron is on the faculty of Meridian University and Saybrook University.

Terri Goslin-Jones, Ph.D., REACE, is co-facilitator of the PCEA Certificate Program at Meridian University. She is a workplace psychologist with expertise in leadership development, executive coaching, and group facilitation. Her mission is to Discover the Wonder of People at Work™. Dr. Goslin-Jones uses Person-Centered Expressive Arts as a bridge to help her clients access deeper levels of creativity and authenticity. Her dissertation topic was, “The Perceived Effects of Person-Centered Expressive Arts on One’s Work.” She is on the faculty at Saybrook and Meridian Universities. www.terrigoslin-jones.com

Natalie Rogers, Ph.D., REAT, author of The Creative Connection: Expressive Arts as Healing, (1993), and The Creative Connection for Groups (2011) has led PCEA trainings internationally. Dr. Rogers practiced as a psychotherapist for 30 years and facilitated many workshops with her father, Carl Rogers. Natalie will be present three days at each of the six courses. Faculty at Meridian University.

We Will Explore
- How the creative process connects us to body, psyche, soul and world
- How the person-centered approach enhances emotional intelligence, healing, relationships and manifesting our potentials
- The use of expressive arts in counseling, teaching and group work

Full course description and dates at www.personcenteredexpressivearts.com or www.nrogers.com

TUITION $8,000 per year ($16,000 total) for this six week, 450 hour training. Payment plan available. Delightful rooms and healthy meals at the first class Asilomar Conference Center at $1266 (double room) per residential week. This is a “refuge by the sea!” www.visitasilomar.com

TO APPLY please email: Sue Ann Herron at sueannherron@comcast.net
FOR COURSE DESCRIPTION & DATES please go to www.nrogers.com